

INTRODUCING PHARMANET/i3 STRATEGIC RESOURCING

Breakthrough resources for today's drug development programs

“Today's changing and complex world of drug development means biopharmaceutical companies are looking for ways to enhance innovation, accelerate pipelines and improve quality, all while increasing efficiencies and managing costs.”

PHARMANET/I3 STRATEGIC RESOURCING UNDERSTANDS YOUR CHALLENGES

Urgent and competing demands are challenging today's biopharmaceutical industry around the world.

Drug development companies are under intense pressure to accelerate the development of innovative products with improved efficiency and quality, while simultaneously lowering costs and adjusting to evolving regulatory environments.

Now more than ever, you need a strategic partner that offers intelligent solutions for effectively prioritizing and deploying staff, resources, and processes in new ways anywhere in the world.

PHARMANET/i3 STRATEGIC RESOURCING OFFERS NEW SOLUTIONS

Part of best-in-class global services company inVentiv Health, PharmaNet/i3 Strategic Resourcing believes in helping our healthcare clients regain a sense of control by offering expertise to capitalize on opportunities. Our perspective is global, our performance is agile.

inVentiv Health has three business segments—Clinical, Commercial, and Consulting—that align with and support the entire life cycle of your products, from clinical development through launch and commercialization.

PharmaNet/i3 offers not only full-service clinical trial outsourcing, but robust strategic resourcing capabilities with a complete range of functional service provider and clinical staffing services. These capabilities give us new ways to tailor resourcing solutions on a global scale.

We work to anticipate and alleviate your business pressures, address competing demands, and help you achieve your clinical and financial objectives.

Each plan, regardless of size or scope, is based on a customized business model that can quickly adapt to evolving business needs.

We deliver the right resources at the right time, and continually look for ways to reduce costs, eliminate redundancy, and deliver timely results.
